Partnering with NRDA

What's new for 2024/25?

We are excited to bring you our new Destination Partner Programme – a fresh take on the Visitor Sector Promotions Programme. Your valuable feedback to our partner survey revealed a need to simplify our membership levels, so we have streamlined the offerings and made it easier to see the benefits you'll receive.

Together, we can build on our success.

Thanks to our existing partners we are on track to deliver more than $2m in earned media over the past year. We've unlocked even more international and domestic exposure and promotion for our programme members through strengthened relationships with Air New Zealand and Tourism New Zealand. What's more, our innovations in sustainable and regenerative tourism have seen the Nelson Tasman region selected by Tourism New Zealand as a case study to help leverage nationwide change. And our Fall in Love with Nelson Tasman campaign offers up fresh, targeted messaging that our region is an awesome place to visit.

We are growing local collaboration.

In the coming year we'll build connections with the new NRDA Food and Beverage Partner Programme. This will deliver all sorts of tasty new opportunities and support like-minded local businesses.

Our exciting new regional identity and website goes live in July.

It's time to revisit, refine and refresh so Nelson Tasman shines brightly. Our focus is on clearly communicating our region's values, what it offers, and why it is a great place to visit, work and live.

Our commitment to the visitor sector and wider community remains unchanged.

We'll work together to attract the right visitors for the right reasons by promoting light footprint and regenerative experiences, along with itineraries, events and businesses that showcase our amazing outdoors, rich cultural life, vibrant makers and creators, wonderful local food and hospitality, welcoming accommodation and low-emissions transport.

We look forward to working with you.

Going global to millions

With Tourism New Zealand's support, Donna, NRDA's International Lead, successfully pitched our region to Australia's number one breakfast show on Sunrise TV.

With a Kaiteriteri Beach backdrop and lashings of sunshine, the spotlight well and truly shone on our region. A live feed during the weather segment was complemented by engaging interviews showcasing Kaiteriteri Recreation Reserve, Waka Abel Tasman, Cable Bay Adventure Park and Wilsons Abel Tasman.

Reaching an average of 1.2M Australian viewers, it generated an EAV of a whopping $814k. On top of that, Sunrise TV's social media reach across Facebook, Instagram and X (formerly Twitter) was 2.4M.

Dishing up something delicious

We're working in close collaboration with our investment team to promote our region's thriving food and beverage industries. Few other regions have so much to offer – seafood, fruit, ice cream, peanut butter, chocolate, cheese, beer, ciders, wines, juices, spirits and so much more.

Launched in September 2023, our Food and Beverage Partner Programme will capitalise on our collective strengths through networking, partnerships and special projects. The launch event at Pic's Peanut Butter World was attended by over 70 people and proved to be a great networking success.

In February 2024, the ANZ Producer Marketplace attracted over 200 people and showcased 16 local food and beverage stalls.

Our big splash in Dish Magazine in January 2024 is a testament to its success. Editor Sarah Tuck's tasty famil in our region resulted in a ten-page feature along with two full-page editorials, supported by a full-page ad from NRDA.

With an EAV of $93,000. We're smelling the sweet success of being New Zealand's most delicious and diverse culinary region!

International marketing

Trade

Donna attends five trade conferences yearly to promote members and the region. In February 2024, she attended the TNZ Regional Showcase in Sydney, which included a workshop day with the TNZ Australia team plus a 'speed dating' day with Australian travel sellers. In May 2024, Donna and Craig attended TRENZ in Wellington, where they spoke with over 50 international travel agents.

Famil hosting

NRDA hosted over 15 famils for industry professionals and influencers. NRDA successfully pitched for an Arts, Bars, Culture and Light Footprint Travel famil for Australia's Explore Travel published in March 2024. Donna hosted a two-day itinerary that included over sixteen tourism operators. The story reached an audience of 714k with a digital and print EAV of $379k.

NRDA is looking forward to building on this success with our valued partners to promote our region to international visitors.

Business events

NRDA's Business Events Lead, Rita Merriman, ensures that conference organisers keep Nelson Tasman and its destination partners top of mind, by promoting venues, suppliers, accommodation and visitor attractions that entice delegates to extend their stay. As well as attending the annual MEETINGS tradeshow in June, Rita also co-ordinates numerous business event proposals and hosts conference organisers throughout the year.

Agile on the Beach conference

NRDA was only too happy to recommend Beachside Conference and Events Centre in Tahunanui for this three-day conference, the organisers of which wanted a 100-person venue with varied accommodation options close by. The delegates made the most of both their business and leisure time, while the region benefited from an economic impact of $145k.

Pathologists Australasia conference

Working closely with Business Events Industry Aotearoa, we secured the Royal College of Pathologists Australasia Annual Scientific Meeting. Taking place in September 2024 at the Rutherford Hotel with more than 100 delegates attending, the economic impact is estimated at $194k.

Consumer events

NZ MTB Rally

NRDA's Events Team, led by Rebecca Leach, plays a crucial role promoting and facilitating events that have great cultural and economic value to Nelson Tasman – simultaneously attracting visitors and fostering local community culture.

The NRDA-commissioned BERL report showed that the mountain biking industry is worth over $34M to the local economy. And it has the potential to reach over $49M in the near future.

The NZ MTB Rally was seen as an incredible opportunity to promote Nelson Tasman as the 'mecca of mountain biking'. NRDA helped the organisers secure funding from the Nelson City Council Economic Event Fund.

Our Events Team also offered support to the organisers by facilitating communication with iwi, council, Nelson Airport, accommodation, and hospitality businesses.

NRDA also promoted the event through our digital channels.

The event had 120 entries (75 international) riders and sold out within 48 hours. NZ MTB Rally was a huge international success, the riders raved about the trails and hospitality.

Top media mountain bike channel Pinkbike shared 8 race reports on their homepage which has over 6M visits a month.

Case studies

Kyle's compelling video showcased the breadth of brilliant beachside fun offered by the nine cluster members. The resulting consumer competition reached an audience of more than 50k people and attracted 2.5k entries, in turn growing our consumer database.

As well as promoting Tāhunanui to potential visitors, this campaign brought local businesses together to provide deals and other opportunities that might not be possible when working alone.

Marketing as a collective

Our team joined forces to support the Tāhunanui Tourism Cluster to collaboratively market the sub-region, bringing one of Aotearoa's best travel storytellers, Kyle Mulinder (@barekiwi) along for the ride.

The success of the This is Tāhunanui campaign is a sound building block for future initiatives, and we are looking forward to fostering similar cluster initiatives across our region.

"I have worked with many RTO's both nationally and internationally but this is the first time I have been involved with an incredibly successful collaboration project initiated by individual businesses. The cohesion all nine businesses demonstrated just blew my mind. Everyone was purely in it for the greater good; to showcase how special Tāhunanui is. It was an honour to capture it for them."

GOLDEN BAY / RATANUI LODGE

Fall in love with successful consumer campaigns

Estimated to generate over 5M impressions and 3.5k operator referrals, our 'Fall in Love with Nelson Tasman' Autumn campaign aimed to drive visitation in the shoulder season by targeting empty-nesters and double-income audiences.

Strategically aligning their lifestyles and interests with activities and attractions offered by our partners, it also amplified our hero tourism experiences – adventure, trails, culture, artisans, local flavours, accommodation, and hospitality.

NRDA partnered with Air New Zealand and Interislander to roll out two teaser campaigns called Fall in Love & Win. They enticed couples to enter the draw to win two Autumn getaway packages that included activities and accommodation provided by some of our partners. These teaser campaigns generated over 7.2k new subscribers to our consumer database.

NEUDORF VINEYARD / MOUTERE

'I recommend being part of the Destination Partner Programme because Wilsons Abel Tasman recognises the need to contribute to collective regional tourism marketing.

One of the major benefits of DPP membership is having access to NRDA's dedicated team connecting us with Tourism New Zealand, media, trade shows, famil programmes and provides regional engagement. Few operators have the time or commitment for that.'

Darryl Wilson
CEO, Wilsons Abel Tasman

'As new tourism business owners we've found being part of the Destination Partner Programme is a huge support.

The experienced NRDA team are always looking after us with advice, famil programmes, and building connections within the tourism community. It's comforting to know they have our backs no matter what.

Craig, Donna, Rita and Alex offer an endless source of information and digital marketing knowledge. I can't thank them enough because without their support, our business would not be where it is today.'
